

SOO LINE BUYS WISCONSIN AND NORTHERN CO. FOR $3,339,500

Formal Application for Purchase Is Made to Interstate Commerce Body.

WILL MAKE TRANSFER IN MAY

Appleton's Railroad Facilities Soon Will Be Equal to Best in Wisconsin.

Application has been filed with the interstate commerce commission of the federal government by the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad for authority to purchase the property of the Wisconsin and Northern railroad for approximately $3,339,500.

The application proposes the payment of approximately $25,000 a mile for the company's property, totaling about 133 miles. It is proposed to pay $668,500 in cash and the remainder in 5 per cent consolidated gold bonds.

The application was filed with the interstate commerce commission of the federal government by the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroad for authority to purchase the property of the Wisconsin and Northern railroad for approximately $3,339,500.

The Wisconsin and Northern is said to have experienced considerable financial difficulty in the last months, largely due to the financial depression which has halted business in the lumbermills along its right of way on which it depended quite largely for freight shipments.

Appleton now will have direct railroad service over the Soo line to Chicago and to other large cities.

There is no question but what the passing of the Wisconsin and Northern into the hands of a large and well managed system like the Soo line will accrue to the benefit of the public.

Valuable Property
In the absorption of the Wisconsin and Northern, the Soo line falls heir to a valuable piece of road, principally in the fact that it provides a short line between Chicago, Milwaukee and Sault Ste. Marie.

Urge Harding To Sharpen Teeth Of Prohibition Law

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—President Harding had his first brush with the prohibition enforcement problem Monday.

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, was one of the White House callers Monday. It was understood Wheeler has a double mission:

1.—To urge the president to appoint known drags to enforce prohibition.

2.—To learn if possible what Harding's attitude would be toward amendments to the Volstead law to overcome the effects of former Attorney General Palmer's ruling that beer may be sold "as medicine" and to tighten restrictions on the withdrawal of whiskey from bonded warehouses.

Madison.—The senate met this morning for 20 minutes, passed a bill fixing the definition of butter of 82 1/2 per cent butter fat with a 2 1/2 per cent tolerance and adjourned into a caucus to decide upon an Easter and spring election vacation.

A majority of the senators opposed the suggestion to adjourn from March 25 to April 12 and decided on regular week-end vacations.

An extra day will be allowed in order that the legislature may vote at the spring elections.

Three bills were killed during the session without debate. The Olson bill extending mothers' pensions to counties of under 100,000 population was indefinitely postponed. The assembly bills taking off the limit on money that could be borrowed by school districts and requiring labels of contents for mixed feedstuffs, were killed.

The senate memorialized congress to take immediate steps to stop profiteering in the necessities of life when it passed the J. C. Hanson joint resolution.

A bill allowing the county board to fix the salary of the county judge in Outagamie county was passed and goes to the governor for approval.

The assembly went into session at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Harold H. Humenkrup and Lawrence G. Murphy were reported killed and Hamilton A. Baker seriously hurt. All were private.

PRESIDENT AND AIDES STUDYING FARMER RELIEF

Harding Wants to Avoid Necessity of Using War Time Powers in Peace Times.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921)

Washington.—President Harding and his cabinet have determined after a long discussion of the agricultural situation throughout the country to study specifically these methods of relief:

First: The use of war powers of the executive to embargo importations of wool, meats, cotton, and other products which are coming into the United States in such quantities at present as to keep prices from rising to the pre-war normals, below which they have gone in recent months.

Second: The more extensive use of the war finance corporation to finance farming industries. Conferences are planned between Secretary Hoover and Wallace of the commerce and agricultural departments, and Eugene Meyer of the war finance corporation as to what a policy of finance will be formulated and laid before President Harding for approval.

Third: The enactment of emergency tariff legislation later to replace the embargoes because the president is reluctant to use war powers any longer than necessary and a tariff wall is considered much more scientific than an embargo in controlling the influx of foreign commodities.

Delay Tariff Law
From present indications, the embargo will be used as a stop-gap until the tariff bill has been considered by congress and that body is ready to tackle tariff legislation.

Convincing arguments have been made to Mr. Harding which for the moment make it look as if he would favor the enactment of the Fordney emergency tariff law in exactly the same form as it was passed by congress last session only to receive a Wilson veto.

Those who favor such a course say that a general tariff bill must be definitely postponed until after tax laws are made and further data is available as to the cost of production around the world. It is recognized that this is a period of readjustment and that a tariff law passed now may have to be revised within a year owing to economic factors over which this country has no control.

The significant thing that stands out in the events of the last two days is that agriculture has forced its way to the front and that the Harding administration which pledged itself to help the farmer is trying to make good that pledge.

Harry Wallace, secretary of agriculture, and for years the editor of an agricultural journal of wide influence among the farmers, is in favor of an emergency tariff law such as was proposed at the last session of congress and is behind a great many other things of vital need to the farmer. He was an influential adviser in the last campaign and it looks as if he will be the guiding hand in the Harding agricultural policy.

FIND 2 WITNESSES FOR MRS. STILLMAN

New York.—Discovery in Buffalo of two additional witnesses for Mrs. James A. Stillman in her divorce fight with her husband, millionaire financier, encouraged her lawyers Monday as they prepared for the opening of court proceedings in White Plains Wednesday.

It was understood Mrs. Stillman was counting heavily on the Buffalo witnesses, whose names were being withheld from the Stillman forces to disprove the bankers' allegations concerning the wife and the French Canadian friend Beauvais.

Meanwhile Mrs. Florence Leeds named in the case, was still missing from her cottage at Miami Beach, Florida, and private detectives employed by Mrs. Stillman were making strong efforts to find her before Wednesday.

Mrs. Stillman at the hotel Laurel in the Pine, at Lakewood, New Jersey, was in conference with her attorneys Monday marshaling her evidence and preparing for whatever may occur at White Plains.

If the Stillman lawyers call on her for a bill of particulars, she intends to be ready and she is also preparing questions to be asked Stillman if he goes on the witness stand to testify regarding his ability to pay $10,000 a month alimony.

LABOR SITUATION IN ITALY FORCES ELECTION
Rome.—The Italian government has been forced to go before the people in a general election, it was indicated Monday.

It was stated that Premier Giolitti will call for dissolution of parliament, asking for an election the last week in May. The complications which have led up to the expected action included:

WETS OPEN NEW COURT FIGHT ON U. S. DRY LAWS

Harding's Provision in Prohibition Amendment Is Target for Attack.

VIOLATION OF BASIC LAW

Wets Charge Time Limitation of Ratification by States Nullifies Act.

Washington.—A provision of the prohibition amendment originally proposed by President Harding while a senator, makes it invalid, it was claimed in a second attack on the constitutionality of the dry laws, in briefs filed with the supreme court Monday.

The section of the constitutional amendment which it is claimed invalidates all the ratifications by the states, provided that the amendment would not be operative unless ratified by three-fourths of the states within seven years after being submitted to them.

The claim is that congress had no power to place such a time limitation on the ratification by the states. The brief for the wet interests asserts that the supreme court in upholding the amendment and the Volstead act last June did not pass on this phase of its validity.

President Harding while in the senate proposed the time limitation on the ratification saying his approval of the resolution submitting the amendment to the states depended on such a provision being added. He originally proposed six years but later it was increased to seven.

The new attack was made in the case of J. J. Dillon, San Francisco, who sought arrest to test the law. He was employed by a drayage company and transported a cask of wine through the streets without permit from prohibition officers.

Woman Helps Dry
Levi Cook for several years counsel for the liquor interests, is the leading attorney in the attack.

The law will be defended in arguments before the court by a woman, Annette Abbott Adams, assistant attorney general.

The brief of the anti-prohibitionists in attacking the Harding provision limiting the ratifications of the states to seven years, says:

"Section three was introduced into the senate joint resolution on August 1, 1917, as an amendment offered from the floor by the Hon. Warren G. Harding, then senator from Ohio.

"Mr. Harding then said: 'I have offered the amendment as representing the judgment of a number of senators on the floor with a view to placing a limitation on the pendency of the prohibition amendment to the constitution. I do it because that policy is involved in my consent to support the pending resolution.'

"Mr. Harding clearly stated that his vote for the resolution proposing the amendment was conditional on this provision being approved.

"Senator Borah, Senator Brandegee and Senators Cummings insisted upon the invalidity of the proposition as being an attempt in the act of submitting a resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution to alter by mere congressional action the constitutional rule governing constitutional amendments."

PICK CHAMBERLAIN TO HEAD UNIONISTS

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—J. Austin Chamberlain Monday was unanimously elected leader of the unionist party, succeeding Andrew Bonar Law who resigned.

Chamberlain was expected to resign immediately as chancellor of the exchequer. He accepted leadership of the party only on condition that the vote be unanimous.

Chamberlain resigned the leadership and with it his cabinet position as keeper of the privy seal. It was expected that if Chamberlain resigns his present office he will be awarded one similar to that held by Bonar Law.

LA FOLLETTE TO SPEAK AT FARMER-LABOR MEET

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—Political significance is attached to a farmer-labor conference to be held in this city Friday, March 25, at which United States Senator Robert M. La Follette will deliver an address.

Among the delegates to the conference will be C. C. Connelly, president of the United Farmers; William H. Johnson, international president of the Machinists' union; Benjamin C. Marsh, director of legislation for the National Farmers' council at Washington.

Backers of the conference say this is the first of a series to be held throughout the country with a view of getting the farmers and laborers of the country in a compact organization.

"There is a reconstruction plan to be presented for discussion which it is said will save the workers six billions of dollars annually," a statement issued by the United Farmers' society issued here Monday said.

NO CHANCE TO TRADE WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Resumption of trade with Russia is impossible until bolshevism is abandoned or overthrown, Secretary of Commerce Hoover stated Monday.

The return of economic stability in Europe depends on the repudiation of bolshevism by Russia, he added.

Hoover made his statement in conference with newspapermen. It was considered as significant since he was probably play a large part in determining the administration's Russian trade policy. Since the British resumed Russian trade, demands that the United States do likewise have increased.

"The question of trade with Russia is far more a political question than an economic one, so long as Russia is in control of the bolsheviks," Hoover said.

"Under their system no matter how much they moderate in name there can be no real return to production in Russia, and therefore Russia will have no considerable commodities to export and consequently no great ability to obtain imports."

Hoover estimated that the bolshevik government possesses gold, platinum and jewelry worth anywhere from $6,000,000 to $200,000,000.

"After this has been expended there can be little expectation of continued trade," said Hoover, "because the Russians have nothing else to trade with the world because its title has been called into question. It is apparently the intention under the British trade agreement to allow this matter to be threshed out, so far as England is concerned, in the British court."

Hoover expressed the opinion that "if any one European nation accepts the gold no doubt all of them will."

"Europe cannot recover its economic stability until Russia returns to production. Trading for this parcel of gold would not effect this remedy nor would the goods obtained by the bolsheviks in return for it restore their production," Hoover said.

"That requires the abandonment of their present economic system."

SLAYER DECLARES OTHERS WILL BE NAMED IN COURT

Youth, Who Slew His Double, Adds New Angle to Strange Murder Case.

By United Press Leased Wire
Warsaw, Ind.—Convening of a special grand jury to investigate the murder of Leroy Lovett, 19, was postponed Monday until Wednesday or Thursday, when it became known the prosecutor did not have all the evidence he wanted to present the jurors. It is understood he will ask the grand jury to find a motive for the killing and to implicate others besides Virgil Decker, Lovett's 18-year-old pal, who has confessed to the crime.

Judge Royce called the jury for Monday, but there are "still some angles that have to be cleared up," it was said.

After an hour of questioning by Mrs. Moon, the sheriff's wife to whom he made his first confession, Virgil added a new angle to the mystery last night by saying:

"There was a reason for my killing Leroy; and there is a reason for my not telling that reason. It will all come out at the trial. You remember what I am telling you now. When the trial comes, the whole story will be told in the right way and the guilty party will be shown."

This statement strengthened the belief of officials that someone of a stronger mind had directed the killing in an effort to collect $24,000 life insurance which Virgil carried. The two boys might have been connected twins and the line of investigation was pointed toward a plot to identify the dead youth as Virgil Decker in view of the resemblance and thus collect the insurance.

It is planned to take the jurors to the lonely river cabin on the rear of the Fred Decker farm, where Virgil confessed he struck Lovett over the head with the iron rim of a buggy wheel. Virgil likely will be taken along.

TRAIN ROBBER AGAIN THROWS OFF PURSUERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Ashland, Wis.—Delbert Smith, alleged mail train robber, has again eluded federal authorities as they were about to close in on him.

Postoffice Inspector Haugland of St. Paul, and Chief of Police Blair were said to have missed Smith by a few hours in a boarding house here when they recovered nearly $2,000 in currency, stolen from the north coast limited near St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 18.

Smith was seen here March 3, it was said. Police were told that some persons saw him March 4 but they were not definitely established. He asked a taxicab driver to take him to Stockholm, Wis., the night of March 3, where he wanted to catch a train that would make connection with a Canadian flyer. The taxicab man declined to make the trip and it is believed Smith got someone else to take him.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS 40 I. W. W. CONVICTIONS

Washington.—Convictions of forty I. W. W. who were rounded up in northern California on charges of violating the espionage and the selective service acts, were sustained by the Supreme court Monday when it declined to review the cases. The trial of these I. W. W. was held at Sacramento, Calif.

The last nine months has increased interstate rates over the protests of the state commissions. In case this action is not upheld, rates undoubtedly will be reduced in many states and making radical changes necessary in the federal commission's plan of rate making. Should the rates be upheld railroad leaders in congress will propose that the state railroad commissions be made agencies of the federal commission. The state commissions would be empowered to inquire into strictly intrastate rate controversies and make recommendations to the federal commission. Unless some legislation along this line is passed after a decision favorable to the federal commission, state railroad commissions probably would be of nothing to do.

Farmer Killed When Lightning Hits Barn

Stevens Point, Wis.—Henry Schultz, a veteran Portage county farmer, was killed Saturday night while attempting to save stock in a barn struck by lightning.

His widow and neighbors were unable to reach him. His charred body was found amid the ruins of the barn Sunday. Ten head of stock and a large amount of produce was destroyed, and some farm machinery damaged in the fire, the loss of which was estimated at $3,000.

NATIONAL RAIL PACT PAVES WAY TO PLUMB PLAN

Atterbury Tells Why Railroads Want Labor Agreement Abrogated.

ASKS INDIVIDUAL ACTION

Pennsylvania Head Opposes Regulations Covering All Railroads.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—W. W. Atterbury, vice president and operating head of the Pennsylvania railroad, defended the plan of railroads for abrogation of national agreements before the United States railroad labor board Monday.

"National agreements mean eventual government ownership, nationalization, Plumb planism and syndicalism," Atterbury declared.

"Direct negotiation of each road with its employees is the road to industrial peace."

Atterbury charged that national agreements were "super imposed on railroads under federal administration by coercion."

"The national agreements were characterized as a 'dog collar' bringing about 'confusion, misunderstanding and bitterness between officials and employees.'"

Right to Unhinder
"Employees have the right to expect as steady employment as possible, a good wage, time for recreation, opportunity to eliminate themselves in employment, a voice in determining the rules and regulations under which they work and the right to be or not to be a union man," said Atterbury.

"They have no right to undermine discipline, limit production, demand pay for which there is no equivalent production or to force the 'closed union shop.'"

Attorney Frank P. Walsh for the unions, failed in an effort to force Atterbury to say Thomas Dewitt Cuyler, alleged liaison agent between Wall street and the railroads, makes policies for the rail executives.

Atterbury said Cuyler was an impartial executive officer of the association who administered his office with absolute neutrality.

Opposes National Rules
"I am absolutely opposed to any set of rules or regulations of national scope," Atterbury said.

"How about the 2 hour day?" demanded Walsh.

"Why not say eight hours work makes a day, not eight hours is a day's work?" rejoined Atterbury.

"The length of a day's work is absolutely dependent upon the character of employment."

To questions of Walsh, Atterbury insisted that safety appliance measures originated in the railroads. Unions, he said, had fought for extension of their application.

"The labor committee was dissolved on its own recommendation after Jewell and Walsh had charged the railroads 'were organized to handle all labor matters,'" Atterbury testified.

"This charge was untrue," he said.

CHARGE TARIFF IS LIVING COST BOOST

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Democrats, probably with the aid of a few Republicans will insist on "telling the consumer all about it" when congress takes up embargo legislation or a new emergency tariff bill.

Democrats planned Monday to prolong debate on the measures while they ceaselessly pound home the fact that an embargo will raise prices to consumers. Senator Harrison Mississippi, who led the fight against the emergency tariff in the last congress will again be in the forefront of the battle. Senator Underwood, democratic leader, will be another battler.

They will take as an instance the case of wool for which there is probably the most demand for an embargo and try to show that while it will raise the price of clothes it will benefit the grower "all right."

They charge that wool manufacturers, having bough large quantities at a low price, now seek to raise prices by means of an embargo, thus cutting foreign competition and enabling them to dispose of the low priced stores at higher prices.

Friends of the embargo and tariff proposals do not deny it will raise prices. But while admitting this, they say the measures are necessary to save farmers from ruin and to insure the planting of crops adequate to the demands of the nation.

All three are alleged to have admitted their complicity in the theft and appeared in court Monday morning in answer to the charge of burglary in the night time. They were confined to the city and county jails in the meantime.

Doerfler and Fischer were bound over to the upper branch of the court by Judge A. M. Spencer. They were

One Boy Backs Out

It was possible for the men to take the booze without immediate discovery through an exact knowledge of its location and the situation at the Konzelman home on the part of Fischer, who was employed by Eugene Konzelman, a son, at the Terrace Gardens for some time. The three men had plans arranged for the robbery on the night of March 5. They were to meet in a downtown saloon. All three appeared, but Schuchnecht left, saying he had to get some meat before the markets closed at 9 o'clock. He failed to show up again, so Doerfler and Fischer went without him.

Mr. and Mrs. Konzelman were not at home, because they assist their son in the Terrace Gardens. This made it easy for the men to gain entrance to the residence. They are alleged to have filled two sacks with whisky and wine. These were carried about to the junction. An automobile was then obtained and the booze delivered to the Doerfler home.

SILVER DAGGERS WERE ONCE USED AS MONEY

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Jumhsien, China — Chinese for years used lump silver as money. Carried it in a bag for swatting robbers over the head. But not now. Silver dollars take the place of lump silver. Most bandits have been beheaded.

"Thus dies an ancient custom," says Yee Lin, Chinese banker. "Many thousand years ago, all Chinese money was made in shape of a knife, for stabbing robbers. Value depended on weight of the metal. In time, as these circulated in trade, blade and handle broke off. That left a third piece, the round guard that kept user's hand from slipping down on the blade. It was the forerunner of all coins."

EMPLOYEES MAY GO TO CHURCH EVENTS

Cooperation of Firms Promised in Observance of Passion Week Services.

Persons who desire to leave their employment for a half hour or an hour Thursday afternoon or on Good Friday to attend devotional services planned by the various churches will find their employers willing to cooperate toward observance of these periods in passion week. This feeling was the outgrowth of a joint meeting of the retail and industrial committees of the chamber of commerce.

The meeting was called to confer with the Rev. C. E. Stuckey, representing the Appleton Ministerial association. He explained that the First Methodist, Baptist, First Congregational, German Methodist, Reformed, Presbyterian and Evangelical churches planned to hold joint devotional services from 12 to 3 o'clock on Good Friday. The ministers wanted to ask employers to cooperate in permitting workers to leave the plant, store or office for half an hour or so if they make such a request, so they can attend.

Consideration of this request led the committee to believe business houses might be willing to cooperate with all churches of any faith in the services of Thursday evening and Friday. A motion was therefore adopted, which read:

"That various business houses and manufacturing institutions of Appleton approve of the meetings that are to be conducted by the churches Thursday and Good Friday. The committee feels that business men will cooperate with various churches by letting employees who may wish, to attend these services."

The period from 12 to 3 on Good Friday will be set aside for meditation. Persons may attend the churches any time they can spare. Catholic churches will be open all day for prayers and worship and there will be special observances in Lutheran churches.

TRAINLOAD OF MEN TO PROTEST TAXES

Business Men of Valley Will Go to Madison Thursday for Hearing.

Appleton is asked through the chamber of commerce to participate in a state-wide movement among business men to memorialize the Wisconsin legislature against further taxation. One of the definite moves is to have a trainload of businessmen from the Fox River valley go to Madison Thursday, March 24, aboard a special train.

Hearings on three tax bills involving $48,000,000 are to be held on that day. One is the Severson bill advocating a surtax on incomes which will amount to $6,000,000. The Conant bill also provides additional taxes of about $16,000,000. The Arnold bill, which raises the amount of exemption from income and increases the rate on income tax involves about $26,000,000.

The special train is to start from Green Bay Thursday, perhaps forming the second section of the south-bound Chicago and Northwestern train leaving Appleton at 1:36 in the morning. It will take on passengers in Kaukauna, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and other points all the way to Madison, arriving in ample time for the hearing at 2 o'clock. A return trip will be made the same evening.

It is the intention of the business men to inform their representatives in the assembly and senate that they cannot stand further taxation if they are to continue to do business. All men who intend to go from Appleton are expected to notify Secretary Hugh G. Corbett of the chamber of commerce so train accommodations can be arranged.

EXPRESSIONS OF THANKS STILL REACHING C. OF C.

To what extent Appleton women appreciated the invitation extended them by the chamber of commerce to attend the annual banquet last week is shown in a letter received by Mrs. D. G. Kinsman, president of the Appleton Women's club. Heartily thanks is expressed to the chamber for this privilege.

Officers and directors of the Seymour Chamber of Commerce have also written Secretary Hugh G. Corbett telling how much they enjoyed the meeting and its spirit of enthusiasm. They expressed regret that more of their number could not have heard the speaker, Allen D. Albert.

HEIFER CALF BORN TO WORLD FAMED HOLSTEIN

Appleton's world famous Holstein cow, Sadie Gerben Hengerveld DeKol, owned by the Wisconsin Livestock association, has given birth to a heifer calf. Growth of the new arrival will be watched with interest to see what her record will become.

Sadie is the only cow in Wisconsin with a production record of 40 pounds of butter fat, and has made records that made her world famous. She is 9 years old and is expected to make further high records now that she has freshened.

Sadie's calf is sired by Creation, one of the famous Holstein bulls on the Fred Paket stock farm, Waupaca county. This sire is a brother to "37th" owned by John Erickson, Waupaca county.

COUNTY TEACHERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING HERE

Outagamie County Teachers' federation held its annual meeting at the courthouse Saturday morning, but the election of officers was put over until the August meeting. Practically the entire session was devoted to a discussion of the licensing of emergency teachers, to the value of trained teachers and to the wage question. Miss Mary Hoolhan of Kaukauna presided.

The STAGE

Arthur Rubinstein

It has been claimed that the giants of the piano, those incredible geniuses who transcended the mechanism of ebony and ivory and wire, are a mere memory of the past, that a Liszt, a Rubinstein, a Jaseffy, is no longer a possibility on earth. Piano playing has been reduced to a routine science, perfect in technique but devoid of thrills, said the blasé cynics of the musical world.

But that was before they had heard Arthur Rubinstein, not the immature Rubinstein exploited as a prodigy a dozen years ago, but the unique phenomenon that has recently emerged again from that land of super-planists, Poland. The new Rubinstein can proudly wear the honored name, and seems destined to reap an ultimate triumph surpassing even that of his notable predecessor. He will appear in Memorial chapel Tuesday, March 22.

"Dardanella" the volcanic musical comedy hit, described as a whirling jumble of uproarious hilarity, dashing terpsichore, dazzling splendor and startling feminine beauty, will have its initial presentation in this city at the Appleton Theatre next Tuesday. A limit of six seats to any one person has been made in order to discourage ticket speculation. There are more thrills and speed in "Dardanella" than in any musical show of recent years. Then too, it has a real story—something quite unusual in a musical comedy.

And the chorus, Oh Doctor! Pretty girls bubble over the stage and just naturally kick "Dardanella" over for a winning goal every time they show their shapeliness, which is some frequent.

INDIANS SEEKING A HOME IN AMERICA

Special to Post-Crescent

Syracuse—Eight thousand six hundred of the Iroquois of the six Nations are seeking a home.

Back in 1777 their forefathers elected to fight with the British against the colonists. In payment they were given 36,000 acres of land in Ontario, Indians from this tract fought against America in 1812.

Now the Canadian government has ordered the inhabitants of the tract to accept citizenship. This the Indians refuse to do.

Chief George Nash, courier of the Canadian Indians, has appealed to Dr. Erl A. Bates of Syracuse to intercede with President Harding for an asylum for them in the reservations of New York state.

David Hill, Indian commissioner of the Onondagoes, says that reservations in New York are now overcrowded. He thinks there is little prospect of President Harding granting the request of the Canadian Indians.

FIRST SOX PROBE ENDS IN A FIZZLE

Fans Beginning to Doubt Sincerity of Baseball Magnates.

By United Press Leased Wire

New York—Another drive against the seven Chicago "black sox" is under way in Chicago.

Unless the second investigation succeeds in getting deeper under the surface than the first, the fans will not be vitally interested.

The major league club owners have not been too quick to take the initiative in finding out the truth of "rumors."

Charles Comiskey didn't remove the indicted players from the White Sox eligible list until Judge Landis did it for him.

The New York Giants didn't do a thing to remove suspicion surrounding several of their players until Judge Landis suggested that Benny Kauff be taken from the game until he is tried for grand larceny.

Rube Benton, Fred Toney and Kauff were directly charged with questionable actions by Helme Zimmerman in an affidavit.

Benton also was mentioned in a similar story by Charles Herzog. Benton admits he won money on the "crooked series" with the full knowledge of what was going on.

Joe Gideon, second baseman of the St. Louis Browns, was banished from the game for the same thing but Benton is still with the Giants.

EMBRYO BREEDERS ARE MAKING GOOD SHOWING

Keen interest is shown by boys and girls of the calf club of the First National bank in their work as embryo breeders. Many letters are reaching Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent, telling of surprising progress and enthusiastic effort.

Calves seem to take well with their young owners. One gained 43 pounds since January, another 46 and others are reported to be gaining in weight rapidly. The boys and girls talk with pride about the accomplishments of "my calf." One reported that his calf had lice, but he managed to kill them off.

Most of the calves live high, the letters show. Some are fed a milk diet continually, some ensilage, and others a mixture of wheat bran, ground oats, corn and oil meal. Most of the calves were distributed in January and are being given royal care by their young owners in the hope of making a showing next fall.

BOYS HAVE INTERESTING EXPERIENCES ON HIKE

A hike of 11 miles brought many interesting experiences to seven Appleton boys who started out Sunday afternoon on a circuitous tour toward Lake Winnebago. They were Albert Trumm, Reid Winsey, Alden Behnke, Frank Van Wyk, John Harriman, Harry Leith and Merle McCallen.

Walking a distance west along the Fox river, they found their way blocked, turned about and started eastward. They proceeded as far as Darboy and then went east to the lake where they found their progress blocked by a swampy area, but being boys of scout experience, they made a bridge with the help of a fallen tree and some planks.

Fear of rain on their Sunday suits was dispelled when one of their number found a horsehoe near Waverly beach. With seven or eight miles covered, the boys felt too tired to walk the rest of the way home and intended to board a street car. The cash balance of the bunch was taken and it was found that there was not enough money to go around. Like the hobos, they again hit the ties, reaching home early in the evening. They found the ice piled quite high offshore on the lake.

Road is Impassable

Autoists using Liberty rd., better known as Ballard rd., are complaining about a section about a mile long on which no work has been done for a long time. Most of the farmers have worked with split log drains to keep the crown of the road in shape, but the overseer in charge of the stretch in question has done nothing. The road is said to be so bad that a detour is necessary, adding an extra mile to the trip.

This is the First Day of Spring

Today, March 21st, is the first day of Spring—the day that everybody has agreed upon as the time when "business will open up." Business is here. It starts from now. It should be greater every day.

Industry is awakening. On all sides you see the evidences of this. In every newspaper you read of resumption of work.

Back to normal! It is a cheering thought. Employer, employee, dealer and customer are glad of it.

Out in the country the crops are being put in as of old. Mother Nature never takes a vacation. She is swinging into her spring work, making the seeds sprout and the crops grow. The food of the world is going to be produced. The foundation of all prosperity exists as it always did.

Business is here. It is ready at your hand. It is not something to be waited for, not something to be wished for. It is.

The first day of spring is a splendid starting point. Winter, with all its handicaps and disappointments, is behind, and can be forgotten. Ahead of us all are days that grow better and better, days when work will count more and more, when mutual understanding and helpfulness will bring their lasting benefits. The roads are getting better, the shops are showing the new things, people are putting money into circulation. Your dollar, paid out for a necessity, does not stop working. It keeps going on and on—increasing the volume of business.

"Good times" are coming back with the sunshine and the flowers, with the humming of machinery and the song of the whistles. The hour for moping and complaining has gone; the time for hustling and prospering is with us.

In the automotive industry the news is encouraging. Passenger car and truck manufacturers are welcoming the first day of spring with increased activities to satisfy the coming demand.

And here in the Goodrich plant the opening of spring finds us ready to serve our old and new customers through the Goodrich dealers in the efficient manner that has characterized our organization for fifty years.

It is the first day of spring—the dawn of the good business era for us all.

ENGLAND AND RED RUSSIA
Simultaneously with reports of growing revolt in Russia against the soviet government comes a London dispatch giving meager details of a trade treaty which has just been concluded between Great Britain and the soviets. Some of us may feel surprise and regret that Great Britain should ally herself with the avowed enemies of modern civilization, but it is hardly fair to class the treaty as an alliance.
If either party is given an advantage apparently it is Great Britain. The treaty specifically provides for a kind of mutual letting-alone of one another's governmental affairs. Each party agrees not to engage in or to give aid to hostile action or propaganda against the other's institutions outside its own borders.
Great Britain's reasons for making such an agreement are not hard to see. Economically dependent upon commerce with the rest of the world England is probably more exposed than any of her neighbors to the dangers of postwar trade barriers.
The danger of an industrial coalition of Germany and red Russia is something she cannot afford to dally with. True to her tradition she does not propose to run the chance of having to take second place with some other nation that may decide to resume trade with Russia regardless of Russia's internal chaos. France, more exposed geographically to possible German aggression, chooses to accomplish reconstruction by force. England's vulnerable point is her economic dependence
and she is inclined to more far-sighted strategy. She is, in fact, following as consistent and as characteristic a policy as France.
However much we like to feel in this enlightened twentieth century that we are moved by more magnanimous motives, a little insight forces us to admit that we fight for much the same reasons that our primal ancestors fought—because our neighbor has something we want or we have something he wants and neither of us will consent to an amicable exchange. If the nations would follow the traders' example they may eventually discover that they haven't such good reasons for maintaining armaments against one another as they thought they had.
England's trade treaty is not our affair.
We may deplore it and say that recognition of the sort is worth a dozen army corps to Lenin at this crisis but we are not sure what we would have done under like circumstances. It is still an open question whether opening Russia to trade will not do more toward curing the nation of its bolshevistic ills than by holding aloof.

APPLETON'S STYLE WEEK
Appleton merchants Style Week has come and gone, but with it came a new and better understanding of Appleton's retail merchandising possibilities than has heretofore existed. Hundreds of "Style Week" visitors have taken home with them impressions they never before had,
of the up-to-date stores, clean stocks and reasonable prices to be found in our city.
The week was launched last Monday night under the most unfavorable weather conditions, but nevertheless thousands of people filled the streets, stores were filled to capacity while a gala spirit prevailed everywhere.
The merchants, on whom rested the burden of the preparations, covered themselves with a great deal of glory. Throughout the week show windows revealed attractive displays which called forth the admiration of the crowds. Appleton merchants can be depended upon to lead in showing the new things, as the past week has found local stores on a basis of large city stores in showing Spring's new creations. They have done credit to themselves and have added to Appleton's already wide popularity as a shopping center by the manner in which they handled
this occasion.
These cooperative trade events are all helpful in bringing about not only a better understanding between merchants but by cultivating a closer acquaintance with customers of the surrounding trade territory. Appleton as a trading center is growing every day and will continue to grow by promoting a better understanding between its retail stores and their trade. Cooperative events will hasten this new understanding.

THE FIRST DAY OF SPRING
Spring with all that the new season means, is at hand. It comes this year without the marked and sharp line of demarcation between the cheerless winter and the blizzards of March usual and accepted as a part of the season's necessity.
Take a day like this: it has the breath of new buds, of growing grass, of birds nesting, of just enough tang in the air to quicken the step and avoid the lassitude that comes later—but it all breathes
spring and the new dawning of a season of planting and growth.
The stores in Appleton too, tell the story of the arrival of spring. There is something fascinating about the new and filmy garments, the weaves of the cloths, the dainty colorings, the freshness and attractiveness of the hats, and the suggestion of the birds and flowers.
But spring may mean something more than the poetry and sentiment so naturally related to the season. There is more than a sonnet sung in meter or of the cooing of the mating doves. It brings to mind sharply and severely that in all this world,
on the American continent alone, is there peace and plenty. We have men out of work and some jobless people. But there are few compared with what the world has in sorrow and misery and hunger elsewhere.
Still there is an obligation, emphatic and masterful, imposed on the American people in reference to the very men who are out of work at this time. Money should not be a gift. Money is merely a certificate of labor performed, of service rendered, a receipt for something done, and negotiable and passable. If all the men in the nation were employed there would be receipts enough to be handed around in the form of money, to keep everything going well. The obligation we have is wherever possible to keep up that movement. The most useless man or woman in the world is the one who contributes nothing to the continuous activity of that money, or has no service to perform or assistance to render.
Appreciation of this condition will make a better Appleton and more work for the men who want no charity but to give service for a receipt that will be good at the grocery store and keep the world moving.
Those who aid in this, those who are awake to this fact will have added to the warmth and geniality of spring.

THE WINDOW GARDEN
By Alfred Arnold
House plants in the window:
And the hundreds passing by Feel their hearts relaxing quick
Or a joy dance in the eye:
For the heliotrope, it beckons,
And the rose geranium smiles,
And the coral-red begonia
Peeps out with winsome wiles.
The hyacinth crowds the curtain:
The saucy daffodil
Shines forth, a flirt in a yellow skirt,
Upon the window sill.
There's a cactus full of blues,
A Jerusalem cherry tree,
And an Easter lily, gravely bent
To bow to you and me.
House plants in the window—
There's something good in there:
They must keep hope, a growing strong,
And a faith that blossoms fair:
They must have joy that clambers,
Like that green vine above,
And a pot or so of laughter bright,
And a plant or two of love.

Giant Eels
It is said there are eels no one can land. Some years ago a giant eel was caught in shallow water off the shores of England. It measured 8 feet in length and weighed 145 pounds. Congress said that size have been known to bite a man's head in two and to have driven their teeth through the blade of an axe.
In 1913 Kakanamsku, the champion swimmer of Honduras, was attacked by a giant eel, which dragged him under water and held him there for nearly two minutes. He escaped at last, but at the cost of a finger from his right hand.
Eels are an enormous size in the rivers of New Zealand and have been known to attack bathers. In fact, many cases of drowning have been proven to be caused by eels having dragged the bathers beneath the surface of the water.

A Smoke Fest in the Camel Herd
It is said that the camel, if given the least encouragement, will quickly acquire a smoking habit, and that the camel driver who has a few out-of-cigar butts in his clothes for distribution among the thirstless ones can do wonders with the animals.
They carry a bit of wood rudely shaped into a cigar holder and adapted to the camel's mouth, and an animal which is well high exhausted can be relied upon to get up and travel many a mile after a smoke.

AUTOBOYGRAPHY—1
Sanitarian's Delight
In Chapter 25 of "The Autobiography of a Baby"
the author suggests that a certain group of respiratory infections known as the "captivity fevers" and shamefully referred to as "children's diseases" or
"the diseases of childhood"—as though children were entitled to have them—be rechristened "Sanitarian's Delight." Is not most of the expense of health boards devoted to the work of "controlling"
chicken-pox, scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough, and the like? And does the labor of "controlling"
these very diseases which our health authorities so loudly assure us are "preventable" ever grow less?
Have the sanitarians any definite plan of procedure
they can or will follow in the effort to make good their claims that these diseases can be prevented?
A child who escapes any or all of these infections
is unquestionably fortunate, for so lax are the laws or regulations of "quarantine" or isolation and so solomonic are such regulations strictly enforced, that fifty years of sanitary "control" finds us just about where we started so far as child's safety against these diseases is concerned. Out of a thousand children selected at random today, it will be found that no more escape measles and the other health-destroying or sometimes life-threatening respiratory infections up to the age of seven than escaped fifty years ago.
There is a very clear explanation for the failure of public health measures to prevent these disastrous diseases among children. The difficulty lies in wilful ignorance of public health officers of the overwhelming evidence adduced in recent years to prove that, as the New York State Health Department urged should be taught in school, "every alleged cold is caused by a transfer of excreta from one person to another." You see, most of the eruptive fevers and other infectious diseases so common in childhood begin with what the ignorant insist on calling a "cold," and it is in this early stage of infection, before the child is sick enough to be confined to bed, that these infectious diseases are most easily spread. Until the public health authorities regarding the nature of the alleged "colds" they will never muster sufficient courage to insist upon proper isolation in the most dangerous stage of such diseases. Just so long as the exploded superstition of taking cold from weather or exposure beclouds
the mind of the health officer, he will go on "controlling" these preventable diseases—diseases which take a heavy toll of precious life—as he has been doing the past fifty years. And "control" means nothing more than keeping tabulations and records and card indexes and all that sort of thing—red tape, office jobs, political bushwag.
Whenever a child comes down with anything from the simplest three-day coryza to measles, diptheria or whooping cough, somebody has ignorantly or criminally infected the child and should be punished.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Any way, Pass the Gravy
Kindly tell me whether gravy made with flour
that has first been browned or baked is more wholesome than gravy made with just raw flour and water stirred together and added. (Mrs. O. D.)
ANSWER—Browning the flour first in the oven
probably converts most of the starch into dextrin,
which is more soluble and perhaps more easily digested by an invalid. For healthy persons it is im-material—the better way is the way that makes the better gravy.
Dandruff
What is the cause of ruptured capillaries? Has extreme nervousness anything to do with it? Will you please give me a formula for dandruff and premature gray hair? (W. J.)
ANSWER—"Nervousness" is not a condition, but a fanciful hypothesis, and therefore it does not account for anything. If you mean minute dilated arterioles or venules in the cheeks or elsewhere, that occurs from a great many different causes. The best ointment I can suggest for dandruff consists of a dram of precipitated sulphur and half a dram
of salicylic acid in an ounce of freshly made cold cream, a little to be rubbed into the scalp each night for six or eight weeks, except one night weekly, when you shampoo.

Stunt to Cure Hiccoughs
A Spanish physician claims to have been very successful in curing stubborn cases of hiccoughs by this treatment. The patient lies down and draws up his knees until his thighs are pressed tightly to his abdomen, the lower part of the legs being pressed against the thighs by bending the knees. The position is held for several minutes. The effect of this is to press the abdominal organs up against the diaphragm and to sustain the pressure until the diaphragm ceases its spasmodic contraction.

Difficult to Learn
The Chinese pocket dictionary contains no less than 10,000 characters, which one must learn in order to claim any real familiarity with the language.
However, acquaintance with three or four thousand symbols is all that the average native has, and it is said to be possible to get along with a vocabulary of 1,000.

A Plea For Prunes
By Frederic J. Haskin
Washington, D. C.—Fat prunes!
This subject is endorsed by H. P.
Gould, a pomologist of the Department of Agriculture, who has devoted much of his life to the study of prunes and prune culture. He asserts that the prune is being neglected
in this country to the detriment of both the prune
and the eating
public.
This, of course,
is all good propaganda for the prune growers.
But the prune growers, it appears, are not in immediate need of any help. Finding that the American public is turning away from the prune, they have protected themselves by the simple expedient of not raising so many. In a few years the prune crop has been greatly reduced. As a result, the price of prunes has gone up, and the prune growers are more prosperous than ever. And there is another reason why they need not worry. In Europe an enormous appetite for prunes awaits them as soon as the conditions of international trade are settled.
It is therefore the American public that is to suffer and not the prune grower. The prune is becoming scarce on the American market, and therefore high priced. Above all, the best prunes will go abroad, and America will get mostly the small and measly prunes. In this way one of the most valuable fruits produced in this country is apt to be taken away from us.
For it is generally agreed by experts that the prune has a high value in the diet. The trouble with our winter diet is that it does not contain enough fruit. Fresh fruit is very expensive in winter. So is canned fruit of a good grade. Dried fruit is the poor man's best hope of a healthy winter diet. And the prune is the prince of dried fruits. It is the most delicate, the most easily prepared, and the one which can be most easily restored to a condition like that of fresh fruit. Take a large, high-grade prune, soak it in water over night, and in the morning you will have practically a ripe plum.
The Prune's Bad Rep
Why, if it has all these virtues, is the prune fallen from favor. There are several reasons. American housewives have never learned to cook prunes properly, for one thing. For another, imported prunes of small size and poor flavoring long held the market here, before prunes began to be raised in this country, and that gave the prune a bad name. It is that bad name, acquired long ago, which keeps the prune out of its proper place in the American diet.
The problem is a psychological one.
The prune has come to be considered a plebeian dish. There can be no doubt of that. To call a man "full of prunes" is to malign both his intelligence and his social standing. The implication is that any one who eats prunes is somehow damned. This curious connotation which the word prune carries with it is vague, hard to define, yet unmistakable. This is a democratic country. In a democratic country it is always the great object of everyone to appear aristocratic.
The theory of democracy is that we are all equal. For that reason each of us is trying to prove that he is a little better than somebody else. We avoid, as we would avoid the garment of a leper, everything that is supposed to be proletarian. And the prune has come to be considered proletarian fruit in this country. Be it ever so luscious, it cannot live down its humble reputation. When your rich aunt comes to visit you, you would not think of offering her prunes for breakfast.
The prune long was cheap. The prune was a subject for vaudeville jokes. It is in the same class with red flannel underwear and chewing tobacco. It simply isn't used by the best people. It has fallen under the terrible taboo which our unconscious

bel exhibited a submarine of his own design on the Thames. In 1727, 14 types had been patented in England alone. In 1775 David Bushnell built his first submarine boat with which Sergeant Lee attacked the H. M. S.
Eagle in New York Harbor.
Q. What is the population of the Philippines? C. H. E.
A. According to the 1918 census,
the total population of the Philippines
was 10,360,640.
Q. Give a brief outline of the commission form of government. M. M.
A. The commission form of City Government varies widely in the different states. The characteristic feature is the combining of all legislative and executive powers in a single body, usually consisting of about 5 to 7 members. These members are elected at large. The mayor, as a rule, is one of the commission, but has no more power than his associates, though the official head of the city. The administrative work of the commission is divided into departments, each headed by one commissioner. As a safeguard, the commission form of government almost invariably includes initiative, referendum and recall.

ton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This office applies strictly to legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All

Q. How much did the presidential inauguration cost? I. C.
A. The Superintendent of Capitol Buildings and Grounds says that only $1,500 of the $50,000 allotted for inaugural expenses, was actually disbursed.
Q. To settle an argument, please state when a man is illiterate. B.
I. K.
A. The word "illiterate" as used in statistics and in educational reports,
means inability to read and write.
Q. Are white fish ever caught with hook and line? If so, what bait is used? A. L.
A. The Bureau of Fisheries says that the white fish of the Great Lakes is not caught with hook and line, but with nets. The Rocky Mountain white fish are taken with hook and line. The bait used is a fly or worm.
Q. Who invented the submarine?
O. P. K.
A. It is unknown who built the first submarine boat, but it is said that Alexander the Great was interested in submarine navigation. There is no doubt that these types of vessels were studied during the 13th and 14th centuries. Early in the 17th century, submarine boats were numerous and in 1624 Cornelius Dre-

ST. PAUL LABOR IN BUILDING BUSINESS
Special to Post-Crescent.
St. Paul, Minn.—The St. Paul Trades and Labor Assembly proposes that labor stop working for untrustworthy bosses and be its own employer.
To that end labor is going into the building business here.
The 6,000 members of 17 St. Paul building trades unions had contracts with their employers running to May
1. In February contractors notified union men that on Feb. 21 there would be a 20 per cent wage cut.
At first labor forces planned to strike. Cooler heads insisted some new defense method was needed.
New Plan O. K'd
Then came the plan, quickly approved, for labor to go into business for itself.
Articles of incorporation soon will be filed by a newly-organized Central Board of Trade. Stock in this company will be sold to unions, and money will then be raised for initial insurance. Supply and material men, friendly to unions, also will be allowed to buy memberships.
Two subsidiary companies will be formed next. One will direct construction work and will be in charge of experts and technically trained men.
They will purchase materials and supervise building operations.
The other corporation will be a building and loan association.

Prophets' n-Other Things
A Health Talk By Chiropractor Rolfe EVERY once in a while folks come to my offices and tell me that so and so had told them that Chiropractic could not help them but would only do them harm, and I usually answer, "The man who prophesies
the bad for himself may be telling the truth,
but if he prophesies it for you—he is a provocator, unless you believe him. Don't let a false Prophet mislead you."
OTHER folks come and tell me that they can get adjustments for less than I charge them, to which I reply, "A man's services are worth just what he thinks his services are worth—and that if they go and buy a yard of goods for $2.00 per yard at a first class store and another for 98c at a second class store they are getting just what they are paying for. $2.00 goods at the first class and 98c goods at the second class place. I give first class Chiropractic Services."
STILL other folks come and tell me, when they see the card in my offices reading "All Adjustments Strictly Cash" hat they can get credit at the other fellow. And I tell them that when one does business on a credit basis he does it for nothing, and that anything you get for nothing, is worth just what you pay for it—NOTHING. My first class services are worth something.
BUT speaking of other things—How's your "Good Health"? Not of the best, eh? Then why not give Chiropractic a chance to remove the cause of your ailment, a pinched nerve or nerves along the course of your Spinal Column? The Chiropractor who knows his business has no use for stretching machines, etc.
electrical devices, etc. He uses his bare hands alone to adjust your misplaced vertebrae to normalcy. This frees the pinched nerves and "Good Health" is the result.

Cotton Pad For Mattress

When making a cotton pad to put over the mattress, instead of buying one heavy bat of cotton, try using several small ones and sort of weaving the strips of cotton together. After the mat is pinned into the quilting frames lay a string of cotton cross-wise, then lengthwise and continue until the pad is finished. This weaving keeps the cotton in place and makes it much easier to handle when the cover needs to be removed to be washed. The cotton stays "put" even when unpacked and hung on the line out doors to air.

Adventures of the Twins

Olive Roberts Barton

Nancy and Nick, as you have heard, are twins who have a funny friend called the Magical Mushroom, who is a servant of the Fairy Queen. He gives the twins a pair of Magic Green Shoes which they wear when ever the Fairy Queen wishes an errand done.

The Mushroom himself possesses the magical gift of making any language.

The Green Shoes not only can carry their wearers safely over land and sea, but they can change too and their owners at will.

Already have the twins been of use in assisting Mr. Rubadub to spring-clean the animals in Scrub Up land; in helping Mr. Tingaling to collect rents in the Land of Dear Knows-Where; and in aiding Mr. Scribble Scratch to teach the animal school in Meadow Grove Land, and in rescuing the birthday toys from Stutcher-Snatch, a wicked fairy.

At times the Magical Mushroom gives the children a charm, a piece of his hat, which gives them the same power that he possesses.

"Oh!" cried Nick one day as he and Nancy romped down to the meadow to play. "Winter is almost over and won't we have a grand time!"

"Grand time, grand time!" sang Nancy, his twin sister doing a little dance. Stopping suddenly she asked, "Nicky, what do we do in the spring besides pick flowers and buy new hats and beat carpets? I forget."

Nick scoffed. "Do? Fly kites and spin tops and ride bicycles and go to circus and—"

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

Bob Is Shell-Shocked; Would He Forget Again That I Am His Wife?

"The most painful episode in my life," I repeated the doctor's words. "Shell-shock!" I whispered. "It has—come back to him!" Thus I betrayed the fear which had haunted me for many months.

"What's that you say, doc? Shell-shock?" asked Daddy. "You can't mean it, man! You can't!"

"Lorimer, I've warned you more than once. I couldn't say what form Bob's mental depression might take, but I've told you not to let that boy work too hard."

"And by the Lord, Harry, I've been urging him to slave for me! Thought he needed to wake up! I've been driving him, day and night, ever since I had to take the rest you advised." Daddy Lorimer sank into a chair and his crutches dropped with a clatter.

"And you told me," I flattered. "You warned me that a big emotional disturbance might—might upset Bob—perhaps cause—insanity!" I held up Ted's wire to me. "See! I am to blame!"

"My child!" Dr. Marshall took my hands in his. "I think you are not to blame! Perhaps—"

He stopped suddenly, almost too abruptly. Daddy Lorimer coughed uneasily. I became suspicious. I perceived what Dr. Marshall had not dared to put into words: The shock, the jar to Bob's mental gear would not have been possible unless Bob had been dissipating, while I was in New York!

There was no comfort in the suggestion that Bob, and not I, was responsible for his state. I asked myself if there was ever to be any cheer for Bob and me, all the days of our lives!

In his former condition of shell-shock, which lasted for months after he had returned from the war, Bob had forgotten that I was his wife.

Would he forget me a second time? It was many hours before I could put aside that dread. In the ensuing sad time which I spent by my husband's bed, I reviewed the awful period which followed his return from Europe. Bob had not known that he was married. And in that free emotional state, he had fallen in love with Katherine Miller, and I had made him woo me a second time. I had taken him away from the tawny-haired tiger-girl, and he and I had come into our own again. And for a time we had been very, very happy—and then—once more—we had drifted apart!

We had undertaken a beautiful trust—the trust to make our marriage successful—only to slight it!

I could not hold myself responsible for the disaster. It was entirely due to Bob's perversity, but I did hold myself responsible for the way I had taken his neglect.

I hadn't been big enough to do my share without the reward of his smile! I hadn't been brave enough to be thoughtful of his comfort when he was absorbed in himself. I hadn't been gracious and kind when he lost interest in me! I had been a petty woman.

For his indifference, I had swapped my independence! And together, we had almost wrecked our home!

I had been as obstinate as he, for in my secret heart I knew well that the wife who gives her faith for her husband's unfaith, wins her husband's respect, and in the end his supreme regard.

The wife who lets herself be cheated, knowing that she is being cheated all of the time, wins the consideration which no partner in a sentimental romance can ever get from any man!

Many a time, in my righteous jealousy, I had scolded myself thus: "Jane Lorimer! Why take so seriously what your husband doesn't find worth taking seriously? Bob doesn't understand your way of loving, and you do not understand his. There's a lot of talk about love, now-a-days—and so little understanding! So much revolt by persons who talk of the liberty and rights of true love—and who think only of license! And so much nonsense about the danger of suppressing the emotions, all as an excuse for some irregular greed in love. Jane Lorimer, there's a fine theory that a wife can teach a husband that, as a wife, she has certain rights which the husband must respect. Bunk! No wife can do that! But she can respect herself, and do her duty. Have you been doing that?"

I dared not answer my own question. My husband's white face reproached me. It seemed to be my answer.

News of Interest From County and State

CREATION OF NEW VOTE DISTRICTS STIRS UP FIGHT

Lawmakers Are Not Agreed on Kind of Committee Which Will Do Work.

Madison, Wis.—The fight on the re-apportionment of the state in assembly, senatorial and congressional districts is on in the legislature, although it is likely there will be little or no contest on the floor of either house for weeks to come. However, the political fire is smoldering and when the time comes it will be one of the hottest political fights in the history of the state.

The assembly last week, without discussion on the floor, passed an amendment to the third resolution providing for the appointment of a special committee to work out the re-apportionment, to provide for eleven assemblymen and six senators. The amendment was adopted by the assembly committee on elections at the demand of the progressives, the intention being to have one assemblyman from each congressional district.

Under the resolution Speaker Young will appoint the assembly members while the senate committee on committees will select the senate members of the committee. Assemblyman John L. Dahl, progressive leader, suggested that the members of the assembly from each congressional district should select the members for the special committee. This, however, would have taken the power of appointment from the speaker and it was not agreed to by the committee.

The amendment by the assembly increasing the membership on the committee from the lower house from five to eleven, will, it is said, be still further amended in the senate. It had been the plan under the original resolution to have five assemblymen and three senators, six of whom would be chosen by the assembly and one by the senate. But with the enlarged committee provided for by the assembly it would be extremely hard to choose the congressional district to be represented on the committee by either a democrat or socialist when all of the congressional districts are now admittedly republican.

It is likely that the senate will still further amend the resolution to provide for thirteen assemblymen, to include one democrat and one socialist, who would represent the state at large, with probably five or seven senators.

Although nothing can be done as to the re-apportionment of the congressional districts until congress determines the number of representatives from the state, work can be started on the re-apportionment of the assembly and senatorial districts as soon as the committee is appointed and given authority to begin work.

The last apportionment, made in 1911, was figured on a basis of 212,169 for a congressional district, 77,000 for a senatorial district and 25,000 for an assembly district. Under the 1920 census population of 2,632,067, it would provide for congressional districts of 232,278 population, 76,777 for senatorial districts and 25,320 for assembly districts.

FORMER NEW LONDON MAN IS KILLED IN THE WEST

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—A message was received by the J. Crook family stating that their son Martin Crook, had been accidentally killed in California as an electric shock. Particulars were meager. OSHKOSH DOCTOR IS EXONERATED BY JURY

Oshkosh—It took the jury less than twenty minutes to decide on a verdict for the defendant in the $7,500 damage action of Alfred Last against Dr. Neil Andrews, charged with being the driver of an automobile which struck a buggy in which members of the Last family were riding, seriously injuring Lucille Last, 5 years old, daughter of the plaintiff. A number of witnesses for the defense testified that they had been at Dr. Andrews' office and had consulted him at the time the accident occurred.

Escaped burglar is good to former jailor. Jackson Mich.—"Sorry you weren't at the inaugural ball in Washington," wrote the "ethical burglar" Joseph C. Lauzon, in his latest letter to the warden of Jackson prison from which institution he escaped last October. "We had a fine time there," Joe adds.

The peculiar thing about the fugitive letters, which come often, is that the information he gives concerning his whereabouts always is found to be correct.

Joe sent the warden and his wife beautiful boxes of jewelry as Christmas presents.

HOLMES IS OLD IN YEARS BUT YOUNG IN VITALITY

FARMERS ARE NOT IN PANICKY MOOD

No Movement Is on Foot Here to Reduce Crop Acreage to Force Prices Up.

What purports to be a movement among farmers to reduce acreage this year in the hope of preventing a surplus and accompanying low prices has had little effect in Outagamie county, according to men well informed concerning the situation. Cereals are not the problem here because the county is devoted largely to dairying.

What interests farmers most is the outlook in the milk market. They are anxious to know if the wholesale price will go up or down, or if the price of cheese will remain constant. Conditions in the condensaries also are important to them.

The largest income in this county is the revenue from milk. Wholesale prices dropped when the slump came on, but not in proportion to the decline in the prices of grains, cabbage and potatoes. The farmers therefore have not suffered as much as elsewhere and are not going about with threats of curtailed production. The condensaries found their market demoralized but prevented hardship to the farmers by buying milk at current prices and shipping it to the Chicago dairy markets. The condensaries have resumed operations within the last few weeks.

All are Optimistic

Some farmers who raise large "cash" crops like cabbage and potatoes have talked of readjustment, but it is believed they will plant as large an acreage as in the past. Some think it will be advisable to sow large amounts because farmers in other sections, disgruntled with low prices, will plant less and there will be a ready market. Still others look for better prices next fall, no matter what amount is produced.

Most farmers in this county have a definite program of planting that they follow from year to year. They rotate their crops so as to keep all their land in the best of condition, using exhausted ground for pastureage. The majority intend to adhere to their planting arrangement. There will be no reduction in the average feed crop of corn and grains, because the same amount is needed for the cattle.

Tractors to replace horses and cheaper help to do the chores are incentives to optimism among many of the farmers in this county. These will reduce costs below those of last year. Seed is cheaper and many other farm essential prices have lowered. This all tends to put production nearer a normal basis. It gives an air of confidence which stimulates the farmer to go ahead, confident that they will come out somewhere near even though prices remain at their present low level.

BIG FIGHT LOOMS ON OFFSET BILL

Progressives Determined to Secure Reconsideration of Hanson Measure.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison—Unless every member of the assembly is present Thursday or paired on the question there will be a call of the house when the Anderson motion for reconsideration of the vote by which the U. E. Hanson bill abolishing the personal property offset in the income tax was killed last week is taken up under a special order of business.

With the administration forces in the lower house aided by the socialists lined up strongly in favor of the bill, the conservatives are making a determined fight to prevent the reconsideration of the vote. Judge Anderson, assemblyman from Trempealeau county, who made the motion for reconsideration, voted to kill the bill Thursday under instructions from his constituents although he stated that personally he favors the bill and in asking for the reconsideration the progressives claim he will support the bill and if they can gain one more vote of the ten who were absent Thursday, as they claim, they may be able to reconsider the vote and send the bill to engrossment.

It is claimed the bill if passed would add approximately $5,000,000 to the revenue of the state, permitting a reduction of that much in the tax on real estate.

ASK FLORIDA RETAILERS WHERE $123 GOES TO

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Washington—If you like fresh cabbage, but find it too high, don't put all the blame on the increased freight rates.

The Interstate Commerce Commission received a complaint from Florida that growers were getting only $8 a ton because "the railroads robbed them on transportation."

Investigation here showed cabbages retailing at 7 cents a pound, or $140 a ton.

The freight from Florida is $19 a ton. Somebody besides the railroads got the rest of it—$123 a ton, or 80 per cent of the retail price. Who?

Certain foods, those rich in vitamins, are more useful than others.

"I WISH I KNEW WHAT THE TROUBLE IS"

This is what thousands of people say when the gas engine stops. To find the cause of trouble is a problem which worries so many people every day that the Government has prepared and printed a booklet of practical hints on running a gas engine.

The last page of this pamphlet has a trouble sheet which explains loss of power, misfiring, pounding, back-firing, and many other troubles that constantly occur.

This booklet is issued by the Department of Agriculture, and is for free distribution.

Our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for any one who sends two cents in stamps for return postage.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits.

RUNAWAY OSHKOSH BOYS HELD HERE ON THIEVERY CHARGES

Youthful Bandits Admit Series of Depredations Since Leaving Home.

Not only have the three boys missing from Oshkosh Friday been found, but a tale of juvenile thievery accompanies their discovery such as has not been staged in this city for a long time. The boys were James Coppersmith, 12, Jesse Garland, 12, and Lester Winko, 11. They were taken into custody Saturday afternoon by the police following the theft of several articles in the Woolworth 5 and 10-cent store.

The parents of the boys arrived here Monday morning and accompanied them to court, where their cases were heard before Judge Spencer.

No complaints were filed against the boys by any of the persons or firms involved, because of their tender years and the fact that this was their first offense. Their cases were heard by Judge A. M. Spencer, who warned them of the seriousness of their acts and admonished them not to repeat the offense.

Stole Auto Robe First

Theft of an automobile robe in Oshkosh was the event that started them on their wicked episode. Four boys were involved in this act. They hid the robe in a lumber yard. Hearing that the Oshkosh police were on their trail, the three mentioned above decided to make their getaway. They left the city after school hours Thursday afternoon and trudged along the Neenah road until they reached a barn near the canal bank. Needing some bedding, they stole a goatskin robe, a woolen robe, a worn fur coat and an old shawl from different automobiles. They lived in the barn nights and wandered around during the day.

The boys came to Appleton Saturday and were hanging around in various stores. Winko was alone in the Woolworth store in the afternoon and was seen stealing trinkets of different kinds. He was held by the manager until the arrival of Police Sergeant James Moore, who placed him under arrest. Winko told who he was and said the other two boys were somewhere on the street. Detective Joseph Schmitz and Officer John Kolusien took him with them in the police car and searched College-ave. until the other two were discovered.

Planned Burglary

On questioning by Chief George T. Prim, the boys made a clean breast of the whole affair. They told of their departure from Oshkosh, their sojourn in the barn and their arrival here. They are said to have admitted that they stole in the 5 and 10-cent stores in Oshkosh, Neenah and Appleton. Questioned about a Ford automobile battery key in their possession, they said they attempted to steal a machine from Neenah but evidently were unable to run it. A glass cutter was stolen from a Neenah store. This they said they intended to use to cut a hole in the rear window of a Menasha store they had spotted.

While in one of the local stores they thought they overheard somebody telephoning the chief of police. They fled hastily and called at the Union pharmacy to consult the city directory, find out the chief's name and where the jail was located. A hand bag owned by Mrs. M. C. Ecker was on a showcase. The boys are alleged to have helped themselves to it and walked out. They took out a small purse containing $8.65, keeping the money. Receipts, keys and other things in the bag were thrown into the river. The bag itself was hidden under a sidewalk.

Try to Steal Shoes

Working in true shoplifter fashion, one of them approached the display boxes in front of Wolf shoe store and began to examine the shoes. The others hid behind a fence next to the store building, and took care of several pairs of shoes as they were thrown over by the supposed examinee of the goods.

None of the boys had the appearance of embryo criminals, or of an environment that would lead them to commit the offenses charged against them. They were wholesome looking boys, neat and fairly well dressed and intelligent looking. It evidently was their first escapade.

AUTO MECHANICS CLASS ADDED TO TRADE SCHOOL

A department in auto mechanics and a wire weaving apprenticeship class has been added to the curriculum of the vocational school. The class in auto mechanics meets every Wednesday under the tutelage of W. R. Challenger. The first study of the class will be the complete overhauling of a Ford car.

The additional class gives the boys four choices instead of only three. They are machine shop practice, cabinet making, printing and auto mechanics.

The apprenticeship class consists of Arnold Larders, Harvey Jabnke, Clifford Stammer and Alden Fletcher. They meet once a week for study.

COUNCIL MEETS WITH POLICE COMMISSION

A special meeting of the common council will be held with the police and fire commission in the city hall at 7:30 Monday evening to thresh out the policeman problem. It is believed the council will inform the police and fire commission that the latter organization possesses all the jurisdiction in the city.

Another meeting of the council will be held Wednesday night to canvas ballots cast in the primary election on Tuesday.

RECOVERS $200 FOR LITTLE CHUTE MAN

Appleton Officers Force Salesman to Give Up Lost Property.

John Biesterveld, Little Chute, would have been minus a purse containing over $200 were it not for some quick work by the Appleton police department. He lost the purse Saturday in Little Chute and it got into the possession of M. H. Yettra, a portrait salesman for a Chicago house, who finally gave it up.

The purse was picked up by William Jansen, 11, where Mr. Biesterveld had dropped it. Yettra saw the youth pick it up and stepped up, took it from the boy and said he would take care of it. The man disappeared without any evident attempt to find the owner.

Jansen told his story after Biesterveld had discovered the loss of his pocketbook. His description of the man led to the belief that he was a man seen in Little Chute taking orders for enlargement of pictures. Chief George T. Prim was notified and Detective Joseph Schmitz was assigned to the case. He located Yettra at a local hotel. Yettra admitted having the pocketbook but said he had mailed it to the owner.

Failing to locate the purse in the Appleton or Little Chute postoffices, Chief Prim summoned Yettra a second time. He admitted that he had not mailed it the first time, but said he had done so since. The package was found Sunday afternoon in a downtown mail box.

The purse contained $80 in cash, a certificate of deposit on a Little Chute bank for $130 and some Holland coins. A 20-dollar gold piece was missing. Yettra claimed that there was none in the purse. He explained that he took the purse from the boy believing the youngster would not make proper restitution to its owner.

COURT UPHOLDS BIG SALE COMMISSION

The bitterly contested litigation in the United States court between Alex J. May of Laurel, Miss., and Patrick Glynn of Green Bay was closed Saturday when Glynn paid to Francis S. Bradford, May's attorney, $31,300, the amount of the latter's judgment.

The litigation grew out of the sale of 14,000 acres of timberland, known as the "Sage Tract," owned by Eddy & McGlynn, of Saginaw, Mich., to the Hatton Lumber Co. The timber was located in the state of Alabama and was sold for about a million dollars to the Hatton people.

May made the sale, taking the representatives of the Hatton company over the land and closing the deal. The defendant claimed he never agreed to pay any commission. The case was tried in the United States court in Milwaukee, where the jury brought in a verdict for $29,000. The defendant appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals where the judgment of the lower court was affirmed in January.

NIGHT SCHOOL PUPILS GRADUATE TOMORROW

TWO PROPERTIES ON EAST COLLEGE-AVE. CHANGE OWNERSHIP

Gmeiner Store and Lindley Laundry Are Sold to E. W. Shannon and I. G. Berg.
E. W. Shannon closed a deal Saturday with Oscar Frederick, Rudolph Becker for the building at the north-east corner of College-ave and Durkee street. The building will be sold to E. W. Shannon and I. G. Berg. The consideration was not made public. Mr. Shannon plans on converting it into a first-class office equipment and supply store and in all probability will change the second floor into office rooms. He will still retain his present building on which he has a lease for several years, but will occupy his newly acquired property.
I. G. Berg, formerly proprietor of the National Laundry, purchased Monday morning the Laundry steam laundry at 501-3 College-ave, from Mrs. C. N. Lindley and took immediate possession. Mr. Berg said the name of the laundry will be changed to Berg Laundry and that he contemplates making a few minor changes. The consideration was not announced. Mr. Berg was proprietor of the National Laundry for 11 years and after disposing of it he and his family spent several months in California.

SOO LINE PURCHASES W. & N. PROPERTIES

of 115 miles of line in service in each direction will thus be effected as against the round about route via Stevens Point and Prentice.
The territory along the Wisconsin and Northern over its entire length is rich in traffic. Vast timber districts cover the north half while farming, under a high state of cultivation, is found along the southern half. The Soo line is particularly well situated to handle the output of this territory because of its direct line to Milwaukee and Chicago on the south, Manitowish for eastern business across Lake Michigan, the most direct line from Neenah to Minneapolis, St. Paul, Superior and Duluth, and its line via Sault Ste. Marie, gives it the shortest route to the New England States.
Operas Pulpwood Land
"In the event of this deal going through, and it hardly seems possible that anything could prevent it, Appleton immediately adds another line of railroad to its list, and which will be of untold benefit. As is generally known there is an immense tract of spruce pulpwood along the Sault Ste. Marie division of the Soo line, and it also has its own line of road into Duluth, which will give it an opportunity to bring the spruce wood from the Minnesota district over its own rails into this city.
"The Soo line has perhaps the largest and most modern freight terminal in the city of Chicago that is to be found anywhere in the country. The facilities for handling traffic in and out is well worth the time of any one interested that might be able to look this over while in Chicago. Large space is provided for both in and out freight, and cold storage facilities form a part of the terminal. There is never a pound of freight left in this terminal the day that it is received, but instead is loaded into cars and moved out in time freights, and up into this district during the early forenoon of the following day."

SILESIA VOTE TO CAST THEIR LOT WITH GERMANS
London.—Germany carried the Upper Silesia plebiscite Sunday, according to press dispatches from Berlin Monday quoting the official figures. With two districts missing, the vote was announced as:
Germany 876,000; Poland 339,000.
The voting was conducted Sunday in surprising quiet after weeks of turmoil and violence. German officials were ready to claim possession of the five thousand square mile province whose rich mineral deposits will have an important bearing on her future commerce.

ALABAMA GOVERNOR'S WAGE DECISION RAPPED
By United Press Leased Wire
Indianapolis, Ind.—Gov. Kirby's decision in the Alabama mine strike which he has failed to recognize the contentions of the striking miners, was characterized as "one of the roughest decisions ever perpetrated on labor" by William F. Harrison, Alabama representative on the executive board of the United Mine Workers here Monday.
The Kirby award was placed before the executive board which will outline a course the miners will pursue.
Van Bitter, representative of the Alabama district of the union appeared before the board and submitted a detailed report of the strike. He said the miners and operators had placed themselves in the hands of Gov. Kirby and the governor's award.

TOMORROW VOTE FOR EMIL A. WALTHERS
Candidate For Alderman — First Ward "PUBLIC-SPRITED"
"Successful in Business Since 1908"

P. H. RYAN AGREES TO BE CANDIDATE

Well Known Man Induced to Accept Nomination for Second Ward Supervisor.
After considerable persuasion by friends of good government who feared the effect of non-representation of the Second ward on the county board, P. H. Ryan, Franklin-st., has been induced to become a candidate for supervisor from that ward in the primary election on Tuesday, John D. Gerich, whose term expires with this election, has declined to again become a candidate.
Mr. Ryan's name will not be on the ballot and it will be necessary for his supporters to write it in when they go to the polls Tuesday. So far he is the only candidate in the field. An effort is being made today to insure a sufficient number of votes to place him on the ballot for the spring election, April 5.
Mr. Ryan has been a resident of the Second ward for many years and is qualified in every way to represent it on the county board. He formerly was a member of the police and fire commission and is a member of the Ryan and Long Plumbing company.

Mere Man Has Something Else To Be Thankful For

What has become of the old-fashioned hat pin, the brass covered hat pin that anchored the lids? That trusty old hairpin that competed with the mother-in-law as the subject of the jokes in the Sunday supplement? The hat pin that served as a weapon, that murdered that pin that protruded more menacingly near your eye than you feared the "trap hangers" on your ride home from work.

The hat pin has gone out of vogue, which means its days of usefulness have passed, at least for a time. They were quite a necessity in those days when a large merry widow was worn atop a high pug and there were no car bobs to act as shock absorbers. Hat pins were a handy device for preventing skidding.

POET SINGS PRAISES OF HIS PIANIST WIFE

D'Annunzio and His Bride

Erie, Pa.—Gabriele D'Annunzio, poet-aviator and leader of the insurgent Italian forces that occupied Fiume after the armistice, sings of his love for Luisa Bonario, the Venetian pianist whom he has just married, in letters to Countess Italia Sacramosa, wife of the Italian consular agent in Erie.

The most romantic figure of the 20th century writes that he is living in Gardone and writing an autobiography.

D'Annunzio first met his bride when she came to play for the troops in Fiume. The tired soldiers were drawn up around the piano. D'Annunzio played for more than two hours. When she finished her auditors were in tears.

In describing her playing the poet says: "It is music which gnaws at the heart."

The soldiers called for an encore. Rising, trembling, from her piano, the artist begged them to desert, saying: "I have given you all there is of me."

SPORTSMEN GATHER FOR BOOSTER MEETING TONIGHT

Sportsmen from all parts of Outagamie county will meet in Elk hall Monday night to discuss plans for a membership campaign designed to make the Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association the largest in the state. Several speakers are on the program. It is probable Mark S. Catlin, assemblyman from this district and former president of the Wisconsin Game Protective association, will deliver an address.

It is planned to increase the membership to more than 500 in order to give the local association larger representation in the state convention, where it can wield much influence for the conservation of fish and game resources.

THE FLAVOR LASTS

YOUR TEETH

Fillings
By Rex Proctor McGee, M.D., D.D.S.
A filling is a repair in a tooth. There are many kinds of filling materials. Each one has some special quality that causes it to be selected for a certain cavity.

A cavity is a hole in a tooth usually caused by caries, which is decay of the teeth. To prepare a cavity for filling, the dentist must remove all decay and all of the tooth structure that has been invaded by decay. If a tooth could be successfully filled by a filling material, the decayed portion and then placing the filling, the job would be a very easy one both for the patient and the dentist.

The hard part of a tooth, you know, is composed of enamel and dentine. The dentine is similar to bone and has a great many little tubes called tubuli, running from the pulp canal in the center of the tooth to the outer surface of the dentine just inside of the enamel. The bacteria of decay work along these tubuli and go far ahead of the actually decayed portion of the tooth. To receive a filling that will stay, this infected dentine must be cut away. Then the cavity must be given shape that will give the filling as much support as possible, that will allow the filling to protect the margins of the enamel, and that will retain the filling in the tooth.

Even a small cavity will have a much larger area of infected dentine than you would imagine. If you allow your teeth to decay until you can find the cavities yourself, the chances are that the pulp, or nerve, as it is incorrectly called, will become inflamed.

Then there is real trouble. The best filling is a small one, because if there has been very little destruction of the tooth there has been very little loss of contour and of strength.

CAN'T AGREE ON KIND OF PEWS FOR NEW CHURCH

The new church which Mt Olive congregation is building on Oneida-st. may be provided with straight instead of circular pews in spite of the fact that circular pews were adopted at a meeting two weeks ago. The matter was taken up again Sunday and nearly two hours were spent in discussing it. It seems that the company that is to provide the pews manufactures a straight pew which many of the members favor. The number of aisles was also discussed and three 5 1/2 feet in width were finally decided upon.

Is there anything more appetizing than the tantalizing odor of browning pancakes?

FIRST thing in the morning—Umm! Umm! Umm! Great big crisp brown cakes. But the best thing is the delicious thick Karo you pour all over them. It doesn't seem as though you could ever get enough. Of course you don't have to be told that Karo is what makes the cakes or hot biscuits taste so nice.

But did you ever know that Karo is one of the greatest of all energy producing foods—made in a way that brings out every bit of its goodness and wholesomeness.

You can use Karo for every baking and cooking purpose. You can make the finest, purest candy you ever tasted—fudge, taffy, caramels and lots of other good things from Karo.

Your Protection

Do not be deceived by cans containing syrup that might look like Karo. The name "Karo" is on every can of original Karo—look for it and be assured of full weight cans and highest quality.

EMBRYO CITIZENS URGE COMMUNITY BUILDING IN CITY

Civics Class of High School Tackles Two More Problems in Democracy.

Embryo city builders in the senior year of the high school have adopted further improvements for Appleton through resolutions adopted in the class in "Problems of Democracy." A community building properly supervised is urged and regulations were drafted to improve the appearance of the streets. Both resolutions passed by a big vote, the former 18 to 1 and the latter 21 to 1.

It took several days to satisfy the class members in their daily forum session that the resolutions were acceptable. Arguments were advanced on both sides by the juvenile citizens who are learning public affairs. The resolutions usually go through considerable alteration before adoption.

Below are the two resolutions as presented.

"A resolution providing for a Community Center.

"Whereas, a community center, where there can be maintained such recreational facilities as pool tables and bowling alleys; where there can be a spacious gymnasium and indoor swimming pool; and where there can be club rooms for the use of civic organizations, all under proper supervision so they can be freely used by men, women, and children, is a necessity for the fullest development of community life, therefore

"Be it resolved, Section I, That the common council appoint a committee of five members at least one of whom shall be a woman, to attend to the project of securing such community center, and

Section II, That the council shall give the committee the following powers: 1. To choose a site for the building; 2. To have plans drawn for the building; 3. To plan for raising money for construction and operation; 4. To oversee the building operations; 5. To choose competent administrative officials for the conduct of the completed structure.

"A resolution concerning the appearance of streets and contiguous territory.

"Be it resolved, Section I, That the state legislature be requested to pass a law, forcing lighting, traction and telephone companies to place their service wires underground, within the limits of the cities of the state;

"Section II, That the city of Appleton place attractive refuse cans at each corner of each and every intersection of the business streets;

Section III, That the city of Appleton enforce the ordinance prohibiting bill posters from posting bills or painting with the view of advertising on the sides of buildings, on fences, poles and other public places.

Section IV, That the city of Appleton enforce the law prohibiting the parking of cars in the main business streets of the city, and that the people parking cars be required to park them at the public parking grounds."

HAD NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Mrs. Ireland Permits us to Publish this Letter for the Benefit of Others Who Are in Her Condition

Warsaw, Missouri.—"For five years I was weakly, nervous and in a run-down condition. Then I had a nervous breakdown and doctors said I would never be well again. After I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was healthier, stronger and felt better than I ever did in my life before. I can't praise the Compound enough and will recommend it to all women. You may publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. FLOYD IRELAND, R. R. 1, Warsaw, Mo.

Nervous women are both ailing and wretched, and with a nervous breakdown all joy goes out of a woman's life. It is said that the ill effects of women act on the nerves like a fire-brand.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is successful in overcoming such conditions, and a large number of American women who were once great sufferers from nerve troubles owe their present health and comfort to it and it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

Plans are under way at the Appleton high school for a junior-senior banquet to be held April 1 in the high school building. Commencement have been announced which are already at work on the details of the party. Indications are that it will be one of the largest social events of the high school year.

Miss O'Neil has charge of the decoration of the gymnasium; Miss McNey, the program; Miss Mueller, upper hall and table decorations; Mr. High, dishes and tables. The committees are composed of high school students.

The dinner is to be followed by dancing the gymnasium. Sophomores are to serve.

Unique Exhibit.
Carl Tennie has on exhibition in one of the windows of his jewelry store at 276 College-ave. a display of replicas of tools and articles of use at the time of the crucifixion of Christ, which were carved out of wood by George Gloude-mann, who spent three months in making them with a pocket knife. The articles are attached to a cross set in a deep frame.

ANNOUNCE LOCATION OF BIG FIGHT SOON

Kearns Intimates Battle Will Not Take Place in New York City.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier will know where they are to swap punches before the end of the week.

Tex Rickard has eleven more days in which to think over the best place of the three or four under consideration but it is likely that he will not make use of the full 30 days of grace granted him by the fighters.

"I am not yet ready to make the announcement yet, but it may come within a few days now," Rickard said Monday.

Discussion of the site with Rickard is thought to have brought Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, back to town. Kearns blew in suddenly from the "road" where he has been appearing with Dempsey in a vaudeville act. He conferred with Rickard.

"We did talk a few things about the place for the fight," Kearns said, "but I am not at liberty to give the details."

He dropped the gentle hint, however, that New Yorkers would have to spend some time to see the bout.

Members of the boxing commission maintain they have never talked with Rickard about the fight and that they will have nothing to say until he makes formal application for a license to stage the bout in the state.

Evers Is Real Boss Of Cubs

Pasadena, Calif. — Everyone has heard tell of rejuvenated ball teams. That's the Chicago Cub outfit this year.

With the snappy, scrappy Johnny Evers back at the helm, there is zip, pep and go-get-'em a plenty in the spring training of the crew this season.

And what's going to be the result? Let Evers tell you—

Says It's a Pip!

"Why it's a pip! All you gotta have is a bunch like they've given me to work with. Any team that keeps ahead of the Cubs this year will be some team."

Johnny is on the job every minute and he expects every man who wants to stick with his club to be right with him.

"You can tell the world I'm boss of this team," snaps Johnny. "That's what they hired me for—that's what I'm gonna be."

The rookies like Evers. He's giving them all a show for their money. But if they don't stick up—back they go for more training.

Strong in Pitching

Evers points with pride to his hurling outfit. With Alexander, Tyler, Vaughn and Martin as first stringers he's got a strong lineup. And as second men he looks for great stuff from Clueves, a 185 pound six-foot hurler from Texas, and Oscar Fuhr, a left-handed six-footer who hails from Omaha.

All of the first string hurlers have trained into first-class shape.

In the outfield Evers has Max Old timers like Turner Barber, Max Clark and Bernard Friberg. And to back them up he has John St. Angelo, Clarence Twombly and George Maisel.

Charley Hollocher is a fixture at short. W. Earl Mariott looks good for second when he recovers from an operation for appendicitis, and Charley Deal will perch on the third corner.

In Ray Grimes, who came up from Omaha last season, Johnny expects to develop a crack initial sacker. Grimes' style of play is similar to Fred Merkle's. And it was Merkle who starred on the Cub first base for many years.

Johnny Evers, Cub boss, sees to it that this men don't lose their pep.

No catcher has shown enough to displace Killifer as mainstay. He will be seconded by Daly, who has also had much experience. Two rookies are battling for the job of third man up for the behind the plate job.

Terry, a last year man, is the star utility player for infield positions. He shines at second and short and in a pinch Evers can use him in the outfield.

NEILLSVILLE IS FIRST OPPONENT

High School Basketeers Play First Game in Madison Next Thursday Night.

Appleton high school basketball team will meet Neillsville in the first game of the state tournament in Madison next Thursday night. Drawings for games were completed last week and the local team has been notified of tournament plans. Appleton will play its first game at 8:45 Thursday night.

At least 50 Appleton fans will accompany the team to the tournament city. The squad is to leave here Wednesday so it will have plenty of time to rest before engaging in the first mix-up. Fans probably will not leave until the following morning.

Coach Vincent is working his men hard and believes he has evolved a defense which will set the northerners on their ears. If Appleton can come through the first fray it will instill sufficient confidence in the boys to carry them through the tournament in good style, it is believed. All of the players are tournament veterans and it is believed they will stand up well under the stress of tournament excitement.

Drawings resulted in the following matches for the first games:

Madison vs. Superior.

Menomonee vs. Elmwood.

Racine vs. Rhinelander.

Platteville vs. LaCrosse.

INDIAN TEAM WINS FROM INTERLAKERS

Local Mill Team Looks Good at Start But Crumbles Under Odanah Attack.

The Interlake basketball team suffered defeat at the hands of the Odanah Indians by a score of 21 to 13 Saturday evening in Armory G. The Indians appeared rather slow in practice but began speeding up. After the first five minutes they began to be faster and surer of the basket, resulting in a score of 21 to 9 in their favor at the end of the first half. In the second period both teams scored a basket in the first four minutes of play. Gregory getting his from the free throw line and Lapoint placing his from the right side. From this time on the Indian men gradually gained on the Interlakes.

An important feature of the game was the Indian's skill in passing and team work. Passing around the body, over the shoulder, juggling the ball and passing with one hand and faking with the other kept the home men wondering where to look for the ball.

BUSHEY SECONDS WIN FROM SHIOCTON TEAM

Bushey Business college second basketball team defeated Shiocton, 25 to 14, in the Shiocton village hall Friday evening. In the first half the Shiocton men had a lead of three points part of the time but the Bushey men speeded up and brought the score to two points in their favor before the whistle blew. Bushey men, in the second period, proved too much for the Shiocton team.

The game was the last in the old village hall as it soon will be made into a garage. It has been used for high school events, dances and basketball for the last 16 years.

GUARD COMPANY CAGERS PLAY OCONTO TONIGHT

The basketball team of the Fourteenth Separate company of the old Wisconsin National guard will play the third game of its state series with Oconto in Armory G Monday evening. The local guard company lost its first game to Neenah, 26 to 19, and won Saturday night from Co. C of New London, 22 to 15. The local guardsmen

ALLEYS HERE TO BE ENLARGED FOR BIG STATE EVENT

H. L. Davis Elected Member of Executive Committee of Bowling Assn.

The 1922 bowling tournament of Wisconsin Elks will be held in Appleton.

This was decided in Green Bay Sunday afternoon when a committee consisting of James H. Balliet, H. L. Davis and Daniel P. Steinberg presented Appleton's invitation to the executive committee of the Wisconsin Elks Bowling association. Mr. Balliet and Mr. Davis were members of a special tournament invitation committee and Mr. Steinberg attended as incoming exalted ruler of the local lodge.

The date for the tournament will be

BASKETBALL TONIGHT at ARMORY G

14th Separate Company vs. Oconto
Game Called at 9 O'Clock Admsision 25c

fixed at the next meeting of the executive committee which is to be held in autumn.

Although the Elk club house now contains only two bowling alleys it practically is certain that three or four more will be installed before the tournament begins. Agitation for enlarging bowling facilities has been on for some time because of the large number of members who want to bowl and it is believed the decision to hold the next state tournament here will hasten action. If proposed plans are carried out the local club house will contain either five or six alleys a year from now.

Mr. Davis was elected a member of the state bowling association executive committee and also was chosen president of the Appleton committee which will conduct the tournament. Mr. Balliet was elected secretary.

Between eight and nine hundred bowlers attended the tournament in Green Bay this year and it is believed at least 1,000 will be here next year because Appleton is more centrally located and also because bowling is increasing in popularity each year.

are improving rapidly and expect to give the Oconto team a good battle. A schedule of games has been arranged which will determine the guard championship of Wisconsin.
